

We only have one home: a poem about global citizenship

The world is one and one for all,
And should be cherished and protected by all means.
We only have one home, not two, not three, but one.
The world should be protected and clean for the forthcoming humans.

Global citizenship is about taking care of everything,
Not destroying it.
Everything should be treated fairly,
And also with respect.

We should be protecting the Earth from pollution.
The Earth has done us a favour, by sheltering us humans.
We should protect the Earth to repay the goods and luxuries
It has given us.
